

Steve Sprengnether
Co-Chief Investment Officer
Legacy Trust Co.

Steve serves as a Co-Chief Investment Officer at Legacy Trust Company, a Houston based $2.3 Billion Family Office. His duties include formulation of asset allocation policy and specific responsibilities for the firm's alternative asset portfolio including private equity, private credit, energy, real estate, infrastructure, distressed assets, and a small hedge fund program. His prior professional experience includes work in the Private Wealth Management Division's of both Goldman Sachs & Company and Morgan Stanley & Company. Prior to entering the financial services industry, Steve served as an active duty US Army Officer reaching the rank of Captain while serving in various positions including deployments to Korea, Bosnia, and interdiction work on the US-Mexican border. Steve earned an MBA from the Jones School of Business at Rice University, a BS from the US Military Academy at West Point, and holds the Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA) designation.